User asks a question

How much sodium does it contain per scoop?

Classifier 1: Simple, Complex

It classifies if the text has one intent/question or multiple/questions. If there is only one intent, it is "Simple" or else "Complex"

Simple - How much sodium does it contain per scoop?

Complex - How much sodium does it contain and where is it sourced from?

Classifier 2: Attribute, Opinion, Commerce

It classifies the question into types: "Attribute", "Opinion" and "Commerce".

Attribute questions include properties of product like nutrient, ingredient, color, certificates, etc.
Attribute - How much sodium does it contain per scoop?

Opinion questions include taste, recipe, health, comparison of products, etc.
Opinion - Does it taste like vegetables?

Commerce questions include price, shipment, refund, etc.
Commerce - How can I request a refund?

Classifier 3: Single, NotSingle

It classifies the question into whether to answer it do we need information of a single product or multiple.

Single - Can you make this hot without sacrificing the nutritional profile?

NotSingle - How does this compare to shakeology?

If the question is classified as "Simple", "Attribute", "Single", then it is sent to a Classifier 4 to identify 1 of the 18 pre-trained intents.
